

Maximize efficiency and save time with scheduling and time tracking all in one place

The problem

Using two different software tools for scheduling and time tracking meant staff was spending too much time reconciling before payroll.

The solution

Use When I Work to integrate the employee scheduling and timesheets to make payroll a breeze.

Time reduction in scheduling 50%

Time reduction
in payroll prep 66%

Bri Watchorn
HR & Staffing Manager

Prior to using When I Work, Saunders Farm used two different software systems, one for employee scheduling and one for timesheets. That meant Bri was the only person that was able to do the scheduling and payroll because she was the one reconciling.

Now that Bri switched to When I Work, having these two products tightly integrated into one software platform has cut her scheduling time in half. And she only spends a third of the time she used to on preparing to run payroll. Plus, employee feedback about When I Work has been really positive and everyone loves the Team Messaging feature to communicate changes and updates in real time.

All the managers at Saunders Farm use When I Work to schedule their own teams, which saves Bri even more time and lets her focus on all the HR details that make Saunders Farm a fun place to work.
